Meeting Co-Chair: Nicole Ragab

Meeting Scribe: Allison Hindman

1. Call to Order

Nicole Ragab, Community Outreach Program Manager, called the meeting to order at 3:04 pm.

2. Welcome and Introductions

Nicole welcomed the group to the fourth quarter Participant Advisory Committee (PAC) meeting for the Northeast zone and reviewed the agenda for the meeting. Nicole introduced Ally Hindman, Community Relations Representative, to the group. Ally completed the virtual meeting level setting, including a reminder not to share Personal Health Information (PHI) during the meetings. Ally reminded the members that they can contact her with any personal service-related questions, and she will help to connect them to their Service Coordinator.

3. New Business/Updates: Quality

Allison Krause, Coordinator, Quality Improvement- CHC, provided Quality Department updates including a reminder about flu shots, an explanation of diabetes, information related to RSV (Respiratory syncytial virus), and some insight into helping with seasonal depression “winter blues”. See details below:

- Getting a flu shot is a safe and effective way to protect yourself and your family this flu season.

Diabetes

- According to the American Diabetes Association and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 30 million Americans, or approximately 10 percent of the nation’s population, have diabetes.
- Managing blood sugar levels within your target range has a direct correlation to all other diabetes-related conditions as well.

RSV (Respiratory Syncytial Virus):

- Per the CDC, RSV is a common respiratory virus that usually causes mild, cold-like symptoms. Most people recover in a week or two, but RSV can be serious, especially for infants and older adults.
- RSV infection symptoms can range anywhere from mild cold-like symptoms including runny nose, sore throat, cough, and headache. But can sometimes lead to serious conditions such as:
- RSV infection symptoms can range anywhere from mild cold-like symptoms including runny nose, sore throat, cough, and headache.

Tips for stopping the spread of germs and illness this winter:

- Protect yourself and loved ones by washing your hands often with soap and water for 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands. Avoid close contact, such as kissing, and sharing cups or eating utensils with people who have cold-like symptoms.
- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when coughing or sneezing. Throw the tissue in the trash afterward.
- Clean and disinfect surfaces that people frequently touch, such as doorknobs.
- If possible, stay home from work, school, and public areas when you are sick. This will help protect others from catching your illness.

Winter Blues: in the winter months and it's harder to get out and about. Allison provided some activities that can help you overcome the Winter Blues:

- Participating in public activities and programs
- Volunteering in your community
- Staying active
- Spending time with family and friends

5. New Business/Updates: Pennsylvania Association of Area Agencies on Aging-Behavioral Health Presentation

Lynn Cooper, Behavioral Health Policy Specialist for the Pennsylvania Association of Area Agencies on Aging (P4A), provided a presentation on the current state of mental and behavioral health and support for older adults in Pennsylvania. The presentation includes an overview of Pennsylvania's network of Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) and the role they play in the care of older adults. Many older adults have minimal access to mental health and substance use disorder services for a variety of reasons, including:

- Stigma
- Biases
- Denial
- Lack of knowledge/education

- Staffing shortages
- Medicare
- Limited funding
- Personal financial limitations
- Regulatory barriers

Finally, P4A is also involved in the development of initiatives designed to improve and increase access to mental health and substance use disorder services in the community, designed to meet older adults where they are.
